Course Number:	TBA
Course Title:	Graph width and sparsity theory
Section:	TBA
Time:	TBA
Location:	TBA
Credit Hours:	3

Instructor Details

Instructor:	Chun-Hung Liu
Office:	Blocker 631B
E-Mail:	chliu@tamu.edu
Office Hours:	TBA, TBA

Course Description

Graphs have been extensively used to model problems in mathematics, computer science and other areas of engineering and science. Width parameters measure the complexity of graphs and are important research objects in graph theory, leading to numerous applications in algorithms and different branches of mathematics such as algebraic combinatorics and geometry. They have tight connections to sparsity theory, which integrates structural and extremal graph theory, logic and theoretical computer science. This course will address various width parameters and sparsity.

Course Prerequisites

MATH 613 or equivalent or approval of the instructor.

Special Course Designation

This course does not have special course designation.

Course Learning Outcomes

This course aims to guide students to explore central research topics and tools in graph theory and theoretical computer science. Upon successful completion of this course, students will have the ability to conduct research in those topics or apply related tools to their own research areas.

Textbook and/or Resource Materials

No required materials.

Grading Policy

- Homework assignments and/or lecture scribing (100%)

No late assignment will be accepted except for university approved excuses.

For the final semester grade, students who get 90%-100% of points will be an A, 80%-90% of points will be a B, 70%-80% of points will be a C, 60%-70% of points will be a D, and an F for otherwise.

Grades record will be frequently updated at the course website at Canvas. You are required to frequently check the correctness of the grades record posted there. Requests for record correction or regrading for any question in assignments should be made by the end of the lecture after it is returned.

Attending lectures are expected. See Student Rule 7.

Late Work Policy

- No assignment will be accepted after the deadline, except for university approved excuses.
- Based on university rules, all absence notifications should be sent to the instructor in writing no later than the end of the next working day after the absence (and prior to the absence if possible).
- Details about university approved excuses can be found in Student Rule 7.

Course Schedule

- Due dates of assignments will be announced when the dates approach.
- Topics in this course: (the total number of weeks is 15, including holidays)
 - Tree-depth, well-quasi-ordering, weak coloring, centered coloring (around 2 weeks).
 - Tree-width, lean tree-decomposition, duality, balanced separators, graph minors, algorithmic applications, monadic second order logic (around 5 weeks)
 - Shallow minors, expansion, strongly sublinear balanced separators, nowhere dense classes, tree-depth coloring, coloring numbers, first order logic, property testing, applications (around 5 weeks).
 - Clique-width, rank-width, vertex-minor, twin-width, dense graphs and weakly sparse graphs, applications (around 3 weeks).

University Policies

Attendance Policy

The university views class attendance and participation as an individual student responsibility. Students are expected to attend class and to complete all assignments.

Please refer to Student Rule 7 in its entirety for information about excused absences, including definitions, and related documentation and timelines.

Makeup Work Policy

Students will be excused from attending class on the day of a graded activity or when attendance contributes to a student's grade, for the reasons stated in Student Rule 7, or other reason deemed appropriate by the instructor.

Please refer to Student Rule 7 in its entirety for information about makeup work, including definitions, and related documentation and timelines.

Absences related to Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 may necessitate a period of more than 30 days for make-up work, and the timeframe for make-up work should be agreed upon by the student and instructor" (Student Rule 7, Section 7.4.1).

"The instructor is under no obligation to provide an opportunity for the student to make up work missed because of an unexcused absence" (Student Rule 7, Section 7.4.2).

Students who request an excused absence are expected to uphold the Aggie Honor Code and Student Conduct Code. (See Student Rule 24.)

Academic Integrity Statement and Policy

"An Aggie does not lie, cheat or steal, or tolerate those who do."

"Texas A&M University students are responsible for authenticating all work submitted to an instructor. If asked, students must be able to produce proof that the item submitted is indeed the work of that student. Students must keep appropriate records at all times. The inability to authenticate one's work, should the instructor request it, may be sufficient grounds to initiate an academic misconduct case" (Section 20.1.2.3, Student Rule 20).

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Policy

Texas A&M University is committed to providing equitable access to learning opportunities for all students. If you experience barriers to your education due to a disability or think you may have a disability, please contact the Disability Resources office on your campus (resources listed below). Disabilities may include, but are not limited to attentional, learning, mental health, sensory, physical, or chronic health conditions. All students are encouraged to discuss their disability related needs with Disability Resources and their instructors as soon as possible.

Title IX and Statement on Limits to Confidentiality

Texas A&M University is committed to fostering a learning environment that is safe and productive for all. University policies and federal and state laws prohibit gender-based discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, sexual exploitation, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

With the exception of some medical and mental health providers, all university employees (including full and part-time faculty, staff, paid graduate assistants, student workers, etc.) are Mandatory Reporters and must report to the Title IX Office if the employee experiences, observes, or becomes aware of an incident that meets the following conditions (see University Rule 08.01.01.M1):

- The incident is reasonably believed to be discrimination or harassment.
- The incident is alleged to have been committed by or against a person who, at the time of the incident, was (1) a student enrolled at the University or (2) an employee of the University.

Mandatory Reporters must file a report regardless of how the information comes to their attention – including but not limited to face-to-face conversations, a written class assignment or paper, class discussion, email, text, or social media post. Although Mandatory Reporters must file a report, in most instances, a person who is subjected to the alleged conduct will be able to control how the report is handled, including whether or not to pursue a formal investigation. The University's goal is to make sure you are aware of the range of options available to you and to ensure access to the resources you need.

Classroom Access and Inclusion Statement

Texas A&M University is committed to engaged student participation in all of its programs and courses and provides an accessible academic environment for all students. This means that our classrooms, our virtual spaces, our practices and our interactions are as inclusive as possible and we work to provide a welcoming instructional climate and equal learning opportunities for everyone. If you have an instructional need, please notify me as soon as possible.

The Aggie Core values of respect, excellence, leadership, loyalty, integrity and selfless service in addition to civility, and the ability to listen and to observe others are the foundation of a welcoming instructional climate. Active, thoughtful and respectful participation in all aspects of the course supports a more inclusive classroom environment as well as our mutual responsibilities to the campus community.

Statement on the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

FERPA is a federal law designed to protect the privacy of educational records by limiting access to these records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their educational records and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate and misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Currently enrolled students wishing to withhold any or all directory information items may do so by going to howdy.tamu.edu and clicking on the "Directory Hold Information" link in the Student Records channel on the MyRecord tab. The complete FERPA Notice to Students and the student records policy is available on the Office of the Registrar webpage.

Items that can never be identified as public information are a student's social security number, citizenship, gender, grades, GPR or class schedule. All efforts will be made in this class to protect your privacy and to ensure confidential treatment of information associated with or generated by your participation in the class.

Directory items include name, UIN, local address, permanent address, email address, local telephone number, permanent telephone number, dates of attendance, program of study (college, major, campus), classification, previous institutions attended, degrees honors and awards received, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, medical residence location and medical residence specialization.
